Coding Conventions

Client must notify First Health of any claim edit policy that would rebundle services or deny services as incidental in a manner that conflicts with CMS standards.

Client can't apply "rebundling" edits for hospital claims. Client is not permitted to make adjustments or take discounts beyond those set forth in the repricing provided by First Health.

Claim Submission and Payment

If it's determined the client has underpaid a claim for covered services as a result of the client's error, the underpayment will be paid within 60 days from the provider's submission date of the underpayment or payment will be 100% of billed charges.

Utilization Management

Client will permit any participating provider to appeal a denial of coverage or payment based upon utilization review or patient management determinations. The provider must present such an appeal in writing within 180 days from payment of coverage denial by the client. Client must respond in writing to appeals within 45 days with a letter that includes review findings, a explanation of the denial/issue and, if the initial determination is upheld, instructions on any additional appeal options. Approved appeals must be paid within 40 days from the approval date or payment will be 100% of billed charges.
